(3) The provisions of subsection (2) shall not be construed so as to prohibit the proprietor or other registered user of a mark to use such mark in conjunction with the denomination in respect of which a plant breeder's right has been granted.

(4) A variety shall be submitted to the registrar under the same denomination as the denomination by which it is known in any other country, unless the registrar considers the denomination unacceptable in which case the applicant shall submit an alternative denomination.

- (f) that the applicant refuses or has failed or is not able to propose an acceptable denomination;
- (g) that the propagation of the variety in question would require repeated use of propagating material of another variety for which plant breeders' rights have been granted to or applied for by another person, unless such propagating material is used under a licence issued in terms of section 25 or 27;
- (h) that the description submitted does not clearly describe the variety;
- (i) that, where such application has been preceded by an application by or on behalf of the same applicant for protection of the same variety in a convention country or an agreement country, the description submitted to him or her differs from the description submitted in such preceding application or that the description in such preceding application does not describe a variety referred to in section 2; or

(b) All the reproductive material produced, directly or indirectly, during such multiplication or testing, as well as any unused reproductive material, shall become or remain the property of the holder of the protective direction.

15. Effect of provisional protection. --

While a protective direction is in force, the variety in respect of which it was issued shall be protected as if a plant breeder's right had been granted in respect thereof, and anything that would constitute an infringement of a plant breeder's right or would be actionable in proceedings by the holder of such right, shall, if it is done with reference to a variety so protected, be actionable.

16. Termination of provisional protection. --

(1) A protective direction issued under section 14 shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (2), cease to be of force on the date on which the registrar finally allows or refuses the application for a plant breeder's right in respect of the variety for which the protective direction was issued.

(2) A protective direction-

- (a) may be withdrawn at an earlier date by the registrar if, in his opinion, circumstances justify the withdrawal; and
- (b) shall be withdrawn at an earlier date by the registrar if he is satisfied that the holder thereof-
 - (i) has failed to fulfil the terms of an undertaking referred to in paragraph (b) of section 14 (2); or
 - (ii) has given an undertaking, whether enforceable by law or not, to another person in terms whereof such holder is deprived of the right to institute an action referred to in section 47, or an action for damages in respect of an infringement of a plant breeders' right.

- (2) The registrar may in his discretion appoint one or more persons who, in his opinion, have experience in the administration of justice or skill in any matter which may be considered at the hearing, to assist and advise him with regard to the hearing of the objection, and the remuneration of any such person shall be as prescribed and shall be borne by the State.
- (3) The registrar may, for the purposes of the hearing of an objection-
 - (a) summon any person who, in his opinion, may give material information concerning the subject of the hearing or who he believes has in his possession or custody or under his control any document which has any bearing upon the subject of the hearing, to appear before him at a time and place specified in the summons, to be interrogated or to produce that document, and the registrar may retain for examination any document so produced;

[Sub-s. (5) substituted by s. 9 of Act 15 of 1996.]

(7) An application in respect of which the registrar upholds an objection shall lapse, and the registrar shall by notice in the Gazette publish such particulars relating to the lapsing as may be prescribed.

19. Consideration and examination of applications. --

(b) Where an objection has been lodged under section 17, or an undertaking or a guarantee is required in terms of subsection (4) (b), the registrar shall delay considering the relevant application until the objection has been disposed of or the required undertaking or guarantee has been furnished.
