CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.

- 2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.

- 3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.

- 4 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.

- 5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

I, the undersigned, in submitting the accompanying bid:

in response to the invitation for the bid made by:

do hereby make the following statements that I certify to be true and complete in every respect:

6. The bidder has arrived at the accompanying bid independently from, and without consultation, communication, agreement or arrangement with any competitor. However communication between partners in a joint venture or consortium³ will not be construed as collusive bidding.

 - (a) prices;
 - (b) geographical area where product or service will be rendered (market allocation)

9. The terms of the accompanying bid have not been, and will not be, disclosed by the bidder, directly or indirectly, to any competitor, prior to the date and time of the official bid opening or of the awarding of the contract.

³ Joint venture or Consortium means an association of persons for the purpose of combining their expertise, property, capital, efforts, skill and knowledge in an activity for the execution of a contract.

10. I am aware that, in addition and without prejudice to any other remedy provided to combat any restrictive practices related to bids and contracts, bids that are suspicious will be reported to the Competition Commission for investigation and possible imposition of administrative penalties in terms of section 59 of the Competition Act No 89 of 1998 and or may be reported to the National Prosecuting Authority (NPA) for criminal investigation and or may be restricted from conducting business with the public sector for a period not exceeding ten (10) years in terms of the Prevention and Combating of Corrupt Activities Act No 12 of 2004 or any other applicable legislation.

Forest Resource Assessment Pilot Study - Remote Sensing and Land Cover / Land-Use Mapping: Buffalo City Municipal Area

2005 / 2010 / 2015

BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVES

The Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries endeavours to improve the information base that underpins national forest policy and strategy development in South Africa and the sustainable management, regulation and conservation of the nation's forest resources. The Department's legal mandate to monitor forest resources and report on any trends emerging from such monitoring, are contained in section 6 of the National Forests Act (Act 84 of 1998). In addition the Republic is signatory to a number of Multilateral Environmental Agreements (MEA), such as the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and the UN Convention on Biodiversity (UNCBD) that requires monitoring of certain resources and trends, while co-operation in the UN system also at times require reporting on forest resources to the Food and Agriculture Organisation of the United Nations (FAO).

Sound information about forest resources and trends in the extent, condition and value of this national asset is key to formulation of national policies and strategies within the Sector. It is also of vital importance in decision making at various spheres of government, from the local to national. Furthermore a sound information base is essential for building national awareness among the public, civil society and decision makers in the public sector about the value and function of forest resources.

Information is currently derived from the findings of a range of studies, of which some are becoming long-outdated and many of which are of a 'case study' nature that limits their general applicability. The ultimate aim with the forest resource assessment is to conduct studies similar to these pilot studies in all districts and in a format that would enable aggregation of the findings to provincial and national scale. The Buffalo City area present forest types and land use that differs from Bushbuckridge, the first pilot study in this series commissioned a few months earlier; and therefore would contribute towards testing the generic utility of methodology.

Spatial information is fundamental for any forest resource assessment. Such spatial information has to be of high accuracy; so that comparisons can be made over time with a high level of confidence, i.e. the estimate of error on spatial data should be sufficiently small, so that any real changes in area may be measured over time.

The purpose of this project, as a pilot study, is to test the utility of the classification frameworks that are proposed for spatial data, the methodology for data generation and analysis as well as format for documenting the information. It would serve to develop acceptable methodologies for data generation that can be applied countrywide.

SECRET

The objectives of the forest resource assessment, of which this is a pilot study, are to:

1. Generate reliable detail quantitative information about the forest resource base at Municipal scale.
2. Quantify the economic value of forest resources in terms of their produce, environmental services and social significance.
3. Document forest biological diversity and highlight its significance at Municipal, provincial and national scale
4. Measure the physical condition of the resource and identify key threats and impacts that may affect sustainability.
5. Identify opportunities and concerns in relation to economic development, forest use and sustainable management as well as for conservation planning.

This project therefore links directly to the first objective above. As such it aims to provide accurate 'wall-to-wall' spatial information about the forest resource base of the study area, based on remote sensing over three specified reference years, i.e. year 2005, 2010 and 2015 respectively. This spatial information would, on the one hand, form a standalone output of the forest resource assessment and, on the other hand, serve as basic input that underpins much of the other information to be generated for the forest resource assessment, such as objectives 2 – 5 above.
