CHAPTER 1 50

REGISTRAR AND REGISTER OF PLANT BREEDERS’ RIGHTS

Designation and functions of Registrar

2. (1) Subject to the Public Service Act, 1994 (Proclamation No. 103 of 1994), and after following the recruitment processes prescribed by and in terms of that Act, the Minister must appoint and designate a person as the Registrar of Plant Breeders’ Rights. 55
- (2) The Registrar is the authority to whom the protection of varieties is entrusted and must perform the functions entrusted to the Registrar under this Act.

Exercise of discretionary powers by Registrar

3. (1) Subject to the Promotion of Administrative Justice Act, 2000 (Act No. 3 of 2000)—
- (a) any discretionary power conferred on the Registrar in terms of this Act must not be exercised by him or her to the prejudice of any applicant or any other person who appears to the Registrar to be an interested party, without giving such applicant or such other person an opportunity to be heard within such period as may be so prescribed or, if no period has been prescribed, within such reasonable period as the Registrar may determine; and 5
 - (b) an applicant or other interested party referred to in paragraph (a) may waive the right to be heard. 10
- (2) Whenever a period is specified under this Act within which any act or anything must be done, the Registrar may, except where otherwise expressly provided, extend the period.

Register of plant breeders' rights 15

4. (1) The Registrar must keep a register in which the prescribed particulars in respect of all applications for plant breeders' rights in terms of this Act must be entered.
- (2) The register must be open for inspection at the office of the Registrar.
 - (3) The Registrar must furnish, at the request of any person and upon payment of the prescribed fee, a copy of any particulars in the register. 20

Register to be evidence

5. (1) The register is prima facie evidence of all matters directed or authorised by this Act to be noted therein.
- (2) A copy of an entry in the register or an extract from the register, certified by the Registrar, may be admitted in evidence in any court without further proof or production of the register. 25

Inspection of documents submitted in connection with an application for plant breeder's right

6. (1) Any person may inspect any document submitted in connection with an application for a plant breeder's right at any reasonable time and upon payment of a prescribed fee. 30

PLANT BREEDER'S RIGHT

Protection given to holder of plant breeder's right

7. (1) The protection given under this Act to the holder of a plant breeder's right is that prior authorisation has to be obtained for the duration of the plant breeder's right from that holder, by way of a licence granted or issued in terms of section 34 or section 36, by any person intending to undertake— 5

- (a) the production or reproduction (multiplication) of the protected variety;
- (b) the conditioning for the purposes of propagation of the protected variety;
- (c) the sale or any other form of marketing of the protected variety; 10
- (d) the exporting of the protected variety;
- (e) the importing of the protected variety; or
- (f) the stocking of the protected variety for any of the purposes referred to in paragraphs (a) to (e).

(2) (a) The undertaking of any activity referred to in subsection (1)(a) to (f) in respect of harvested material obtained through the unauthorised use of propagating material of the protected variety also requires the authorisation of the holder of the plant breeder's right concerned, unless that holder has had reasonable opportunity to exercise his or her right in respect of that propagating material. 15

(b) For the purposes of paragraph (a), "harvested material" includes an entire plant, any part of such plant or any product made directly from harvested material of such plant. 20

(3) (a) Subsections (1) and (2) also apply to a variety—

- (i) that is essentially derived from the protected variety, where the protected variety is not itself an essentially derived variety; 25
- (ii) that is not clearly distinguishable from the protected variety in accordance with section 15(2)(b); or
- (iii) whose production requires the repeated use of the protected variety.

(b) For the purposes of paragraph (a)(i), a variety must be regarded as being essentially derived from another variety if— 30

- (i) it is predominantly derived from the initial variety, or from a variety that is itself predominantly derived from the initial variety;
- (ii) it is clearly distinguishable from the initial variety; and
- (iii) it conforms to the initial variety in the expression of the essential characteristics that result from the genotype or combination of genotypes of the initial variety except for the differences which result from the act of derivation. 35

Duration of plant breeder's right

8. (1) A plant breeder's right is valid for a period of 20, 25 or 30 years depending on the particular kind of plant, calculated from the date on which the certificate of registration is issued in terms of section 28(b). 40

(2) The period of validity of the plant breeder's right in respect of a particular kind of plant must be prescribed.

Period of sole right

9. (1) The holder of a plant breeder's right has the sole right to undertake any activity referred to in section 7(1), or to have any such activity undertaken by any other person, during such period as may be prescribed as a period for the exercise of sole rights in respect of the kind of plant to which such a variety belongs. 45

(2) During the period prescribed in terms of subsection (1) the Registrar may not order the issue of a compulsory licence in terms of section 36 in respect of the variety in question. 50

Exceptions to plant breeder's right

- 10. (1) Notwithstanding section 32(a), a plant breeder's right in respect of a variety obtained in a legitimate manner does not extend to—
- (a) any act done in respect of that variety for private and non-commercial purposes; 5
 - (b) any act done in respect of that variety for experimental purposes;
 - (c) any act done in respect of that variety for the purposes of breeding other varieties and, except where section 7(3) applies, any act contemplated in section 7(1) and section 7(2) in respect of such other varieties; or
 - (d) a farmer who uses the protected variety in accordance with subsection (2). 10
- (2) (a) In respect of subsection 1(d), the Minister must prescribe—
- (i) the category or categories of farmers who may use the protected variety;
 - (ii) the category or categories of plants that may be used;
 - (iii) the uses to which the protected variety may be put; and
 - (iv) where applicable— 15
 - (aa) conditions for payment of royalties; and
 - (bb) labelling requirements.
- (b) When the Minister acts in terms of paragraph (a), the Minister must ensure that the legitimate interests of the breeder are safeguarded.

Exhaustion of plant breeder's right 20

- 11. A plant breeder's right does not extend to any act concerning any material of the protected variety or of a variety covered by section 7(3) that has, in the Republic, been sold or otherwise marketed by the holder of a plant breeder's right concerned, or sold or otherwise marketed with his or her written authorisation, or any material derived from the said material, unless the act— 25
- (a) involves further propagation of the variety in question; or
 - (b) involves exportation of material of the variety in question, which enables the propagation of the variety, into any country that does not protect varieties of the particular kind of plant, except where the exported material is for consumption purposes. 30

Joint holders of plant breeder's right

- 12. (1) Where a plant breeder's right is granted to two or more persons jointly, each such person is, subject to any written agreement to the contrary between them, entitled—
- (a) to an equal share in such right; 35
 - (b) to undertake in connection therewith for his or her own benefit any activity referred to in section 7, if he or she discloses any such activity in writing to the other joint holders; and
 - (c) to institute any action in respect of any infringement of that right.
- (2) A joint holder of a plant breeder's right may not without the written authorisation 40 of the other joint holders—
- (a) grant a licence under section 34; or
 - (b) transfer the whole or any part of his or her interest in such right.

Transfer of plant breeder's right

- 13. (1) The holder of a plant breeder's right must, after such right or any part thereof 45 has been transferred to any other person, in the prescribed manner inform the Registrar of the name and address of the person to whom the right or part thereof has been transferred.
- (2) A person to whom a plant breeder's right or any part thereof has been transferred must, if he or she appoints an agent in respect of such right, inform the Registrar in the 50 prescribed manner of the name and address of such agent.

State bound by plant breeder's right

- 14. A plant breeder's right binds the State in all respects in the same way as it binds any other person.

CHAPTER 3

APPLICATION FOR PLANT BREEDER'S RIGHT

Varieties in respect of which plant breeders' rights may be granted

15. (1) A plant breeder's right may be granted in respect of any variety of all plant genera and species, excluding fungi and algae, if it is new, distinct, uniform and stable and has an acceptable variety denomination. 5

(2) A variety contemplated in subsection (1) must be regarded as—

(a) new, if propagating material or harvested material thereof has not been sold or otherwise disposed of by, or with the consent of, the breeder for the purposes of exploitation of the variety before the date of filing of the application for a plant breeder's right— 10

(i) in the Republic, for a period of not more than one year; and

(ii) in any other country, in the case of—

(aa) varieties of vines and trees, for a period of not more than six years; 15 or

(bb) other varieties, for a period of not more than four years;

(b) distinct, if it is clearly distinguishable from any other variety whose existence is a matter of common knowledge at the time of the filing of the application;

(c) uniform, if it is sufficiently uniform with regard to the characteristics of the variety in question taking into account the variation that may be expected from the particular features of the propagation of that variety; and 20

(d) stable, if the characteristics thereof remain unchanged after repeated propagation or, in the case of a particular cycle of propagation, at the end of each such cycle.

(3) Subsection (2)(a) does not apply to the sale of plant material of a plant variety to a person by, or with the consent of, the breeder if— 25

(a) the sole purpose of the sale is for the person to multiply plant material of that plant variety on behalf of the breeder;

(b) by virtue of the agreement of sale, ownership in the new plant material vests in the breeder immediately after the plant material has been multiplied; or 30

(c) the sale is part of an agreement under which the person agrees to use plant material of that variety for the sole purpose of evaluating the variety in one or more of the following tests or trials:

(i) field trials;

(ii) laboratory tests; 35

(iii) small-scale processing trials; or

(iv) tests or trials prescribed for the purposes of this paragraph.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (2)(b), the filing of an application for the—

(a) granting of a plant breeder's right; or

(b) entering of another variety in an official register of varieties, 40 in any country, must be regarded as rendering a variety as a matter of common knowledge from the date of such application, if such application results in the granting of a plant breeder's right or the entering of the said other variety in the official register of varieties, as the case may be.

Application for grant of plant breeder's right 45

16. (1) An application for the grant of a plant breeder's right must be made by an applicant in the prescribed manner and must be accompanied by the following documents and non-refundable fees—

(a) An application form obtainable from the office of the Registrar, duly completed; 50

(b) a technical questionnaire in respect of a kind of plant of the variety in question obtainable from the office of the Registrar, duly completed;

(c) such application fee and such examination fee as may be prescribed;

(d) written proof of the appointment of an agent by the breeder, if applicable; and

(e) written proof of the transfer of the variety to the applicant, if applicable. 55

(2) If the applicant is not domiciled and resident in the Republic, the application must be submitted through an agent.

(3) The Registrar must notify the applicant of any outstanding documentation or information within 21 days of receiving the application.

(4) The applicant must furnish the Registrar with any documentation or information required by the Registrar within three months of the notification contemplated in subsection (3), failure of which may result in the application being returned to the applicant. 5

(5) (a) The effective filing date is the date on which the requirements of subsection (1) have been met.

(b) Copies of documents referred to in subsection (1)(e) to (f) may be submitted in order to secure a filing date, but the original documents must be submitted to the Registrar within three months of the filing date. 10

(6) In the event that a variety may not be used without prior approval in terms of other legislation, the application must be accompanied by the relevant permit or proof of general release for the variety issued in terms of such legislation.

Priority and redating of applications 15

17. (1) If an application in terms of section 16 is preceded by another application by or on behalf of the same applicant for protection of the same variety in a convention country, and such other application has been deposited in accordance with the laws in force in the convention country in question, the Registrar must give priority to the application submitted in terms of section 16, if it is— 20

(a) submitted to the Registrar in the prescribed manner within a period of 12 months of the date on which such other application was duly filed in the convention country in question; and

(b) accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) An application contemplated in subsection (1)(a) must be confirmed within three months by submitting a copy, certified as correct by the appropriate authority in the relevant country, of each document that constituted the relevant preceding application. 25

(3) The applicant must, within two years after the—

(a) expiration of the period of priority; or

(b) first application is rejected or withdrawn, 30

furnish the Registrar with the relevant information, documents or material required for the purposes of undertaking the tests and trials in terms of section 26.

(4) If two or more applications for the protection of the same variety have been deposited on different dates in different convention countries, the period referred to in subparagraph (1)(a) must be calculated as from the date on which the earliest of such applications was deposited with the appropriate authority. 35

(5) During the period referred to in subsection (1)(a), the filing of another application, the publication or use of the variety that is the subject of the first application or such other event as may be prescribed does not constitute grounds for the rejection of the subsequent application. 40

Provisional protection

18. (1) An applicant has provisional protection in respect of the variety in question from the filing date of the application for a plant breeder's right until the granting or refusal thereof.

(2) An applicant who has provisional protection in a plant variety in terms of this section may not institute proceedings for any alleged infringement of such right during the period of provisional protection. 45

(3) The effect of provisional protection is that the applicant is entitled to equitable remuneration from any person who, during the period of provisional protection, carries out any act contemplated in section 7 that would, once the plant breeder's right is granted, require the authorisation of the holder of the plant breeder's right. 50

(4) An applicant has the provisional protection contemplated in subsection (3) only in respect of a person who has been notified in the prescribed manner.

Rejection of application

19. (1) The Registrar must reject an application made in terms of section 16, if— 55

(a) the application does not comply with any provision of this Act;

- (b) the variety in respect of which the application is made does not fulfill the requirement contemplated in section 15(2)(a);
- (c) the applicant is not entitled to make an application under this Act;
- (d) the application contains a misrepresentation; or
- (e) the applicant refuses or has failed to or is not able to propose an acceptable denomination. 5

(2) If the Registrar rejects an application in terms of subsection (1), the Registrar must advise the applicant in writing of the rejection and must state the reasons for the rejection within 21 days of the rejection.

Acceptance and registration of application 10

20. If the Registrar accepts the application, the Registrar must register the application and must notify the applicant in writing of the acceptance within 21 days of the registration of the application.

Amendment of application

21. An applicant whose application has been registered in terms of section 20 may, at any time before or after the granting of a plant breeder's right, apply in the prescribed manner to the Registrar for the amendment of that application, subject to the approval of the Registrar and upon payment of the prescribed non-refundable fee: Provided that such amendment does not affect the description of the variety which is the subject of the application. 15 20

Objection to application for grant of plant breeder's right

22. (1) Any person may lodge an objection in the prescribed manner with the Registrar in respect of an application for the grant of a plant breeder's right following the publication of the prescribed information regarding the application in the Journal referred to in section 40. 25
- (2) The Registrar must within seven days of the receipt of an objection—
- (a) inform the applicant concerned in writing of the objection; and
 - (b) provide the applicant with a copy of the objection.
- (3) The applicant may, in the prescribed manner, lodge with the Registrar a counter-statement against the objection. 30

CHAPTER 4

VARIETY DENOMINATIONS

Denomination of variety

23. (1) An applicant for the grant of a plant breeder's right must, subject to the approval of the Registrar, propose a denomination that complies with the prescribed requirements. 35
- (2) No denomination other than the denomination approved by the Registrar in terms of subsection (1) may be used in connection with the variety in question, whether before or after the expiry of the term of the plant breeder's right granted in respect of the variety. 40
- (3) Subsection (2) does not prohibit the proprietor or other registered user of a mark to use such mark in conjunction with the denomination in respect of which a plant breeder's right has been granted, if such mark is clearly distinguishable from the variety denomination.
- (4) A variety must be submitted to the Registrar under the same denomination as the denomination by which it is known in any other country, unless the Registrar considers that denomination unacceptable in which case the applicant must submit an alternative denomination. 45

Amendment of denomination

24. (1) The Registrar must amend the denomination approved in respect of a variety in terms of section 23(1), if— 50

- (a) ordered by a court on application by a person who in law has a preferential claim to the use of the denomination in question;
 - (b) the information submitted to the Registrar in the application for the approval of, or in connection with, the denomination in question was incorrect and such denomination would not have been approved had the Registrar known at the time of the application that such information was incorrect; or
 - (c) information comes to light which, if discovered earlier, would have resulted in the refusal of such denomination.
- (2) (a) If an amendment becomes necessary on any ground referred to in subsection (1), the Registrar must notify the relevant applicant or holder of the plant breeder's right accordingly in writing and must give reasons in the notice why the amendment is necessary.
- (b) The applicant or holder must submit proposals in writing to the Registrar for an alternative denomination within 30 days from the date of the notice.
- (3) An applicant may request the Registrar in the prescribed manner and upon payment of the prescribed fee at any time before the grant of the plant breeder's right to amend the approved denomination.
- (4) The Registrar must consider the request in terms of subsection (3) and must notify the applicant of his or her decision and the reasons for the decision in writing within 14 days of the date on which the request was received.
- (5) Any person may lodge an objection in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed period against an intended amendment of a variety denomination.

Marking of labels and containers

- 25. (1) If any propagating material of a variety in respect of which a plant breeder's right has been granted is sold for the purposes of propagation or for any other purpose, the denomination of that variety must, in such manner as may be prescribed, clearly and legibly appear on a label attached thereto or, if it is packed, clearly and legibly appear on the container.
- (2) If a mark is used in conjunction with the denomination of the relevant variety, such mark and denomination must be clearly distinguishable.

CHAPTER 5

EXAMINATION OF VARIETY AND GRANT OF PLANT BREEDER'S RIGHT

Tests and trials

- 26. (1) The Registrar must, in order to enable him or her to determine whether a variety in respect of which an application has been accepted is new, distinct, uniform and stable in accordance with the provisions of section 15—
- (a) undertake, or cause to be undertaken, such tests and trials as may be necessary; or
 - (b) use the results of tests and trials obtained from the appropriate authority in another country.
- (2) (a) The applicant must furnish the Registrar within the prescribed period with such material as may be prescribed.
- (b) The Registrar may grant an extension to the applicant from compliance with paragraph (a) for a period not exceeding the initial prescribed period.
- (c) An application for extension contemplated in paragraph (b) must be submitted to the Registrar in writing and must—
- (i) set out reasons for the request of an extension; and
 - (ii) in the event of imported plant material, include prescribed proof that the plant material has been imported into the Republic.
- (d) An application in terms of section 16 lapses if the material contemplated in paragraph (a) is not furnished to the Registrar within the prescribed period or extended period, as the case may be.
- (3) If an objection has been lodged against an application for the grant of a plant breeder's right in terms of section 22, the Registrar may terminate all actions performed in accordance with subsection (1)(a) or (b) in the event that such objection is upheld.

Refusal to grant plant breeder's right

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE PLANT BREEDERS' RIGHTS BILL, 2015

1. BACKGROUND

1.1 The Bill seeks to replace the Plant Breeders' Rights Act, 1976 (Act No. 15 of 1976) ("the Act"). Various deficiencies in the current Act necessitated the replacement; some of the key issues are listed below:

- Protection is only offered for a limited number of plant genera and species. This limitation is not in line with other international obligations to which the Republic is a party (Article 27.3b of the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights) or other developments in the plant breeding industry.
- Current penalties are inadequate to deter deliberate infringement of the rights of plant breeders. Deliberate abuse of protected varieties without paying the required royalties is a major disincentive for breeders to continue developing new varieties or release varieties into the territory of a country. This may ultimately impact on the competitiveness of the agricultural sector.
- Farmers are allowed to save protected seeds on their own holdings for re-sowing or replanting through a farmer's privilege provision in the Act. Globally, this farmer's privilege provision is included in plant variety protection frameworks in order to provide for seed management practices of subsistence or smallholder farmers. The lack of a clear definition of the targeted beneficiaries of the farmer's privilege, has allowed commercial farmers to abuse this provision.
- Time limits for filing application for a plant breeder's right are important as it impacts on novelty requirements and priority claims. The Act in its current form is unclear on the specific documentation required for applicants to secure a filing date. The transboundary movement of plant material is subject to phytosanitary requirements. The Act prescribes a 12 month period for the submission of plant material to be assessed. This period is inadequate for other industries, e.g. citrus and stone fruit industries, as it may take as long as 8 years from the time material is imported to the time the material is ready for evaluation. Although the Act makes provision for extensions, no conditions or limitations are set for such extension. This has led to a practice where an application is received but the submission of plant material is delayed for an indefinite period.
- Plant variety protection is a complex environment where technical plant science combines with legal rights and obligations. No formal support is provided for the Registrar in the Act, except for the technical evaluations.
- In terms of the Act, the term of the protection expires after 20 or 25 years, depending on crop type. In other countries, the term of protection is extended up to 30 years for selected crops, e.g. potatoes.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

2.1 Clause 1 of the Bill contains the definitions in order to guide the interpretation of the provisions in the Bill.

2.2 Chapter 1 of the Bill deals with administration. The Bill makes provision in clause 2 for the designation of a Registrar of Plant Breeders' Rights by the Minister. Clause 3 prescribes how the Registrar must exercise his or her discretionary powers. Clause 4 prescribes that the Registrar must keep a register in which the particulars in respect of all applications for plant breeders' rights must be entered. In terms of clause 5 the register in clause 4 will be prima facie evidence of all matters directed or authorised by the Bill to be noted therein. Clause 6 provides for the inspection of documents submitted in connection with applications for national listing.

- 2.3 Chapter 2 of the Bill deals with plant breeders' rights. The scope of the protection given to the holders of plant breeders' rights is set out in clause 7. Clause 8 provides for the duration of a plant breeder's right and clause 9 provides for a period during which the holder of a plant breeder's right has the sole right to undertake any activity referred to in clause 7. Clause 10 provides for certain exceptions to plant breeders' rights, including the farmer's privilege. Clause 11 provides for the exhaustion of plant breeders' rights and clause 12 for the granting of a plant breeder's right to joint holders. Clause 13 deals with the transfer of a plant breeder's right whilst clause 14 provides that the State is bound by a plant breeder's right in the same way as it binds any other person.
- 2.4 Chapter 3 of the Bill regulates applications for plant breeders' rights. Clause 15 deals with the varieties in respect of which plant breeders' rights may be granted. The clause further deals with the novelty and technical requirements which must be fulfilled before a plant breeder's right may be granted. Clause 16 regulates the application process for the grant of plant breeders' rights and clause 17 priority and redating of applications. Clause 18 provides for provisional protection afforded to an applicant upon filing an application, which protection is not the same as the protection afforded to the holder of a plant breeder's right to institute proceedings for any alleged infringement of such right. Clause 19 deals with the rejection of applications by the Registrar and clause 20 with the acceptance and registration of applications. Clause 21 provides for amendments of registered applications whilst clause 22 deals with objections in respect of an application for the grant of a plant breeder's right.
- 2.5 Chapter 4 of the Bill deals with variety denominations. Clause 23 requires that the applicant for the grant of a plant breeder's right to propose a denomination in connection of the variety which the Registrar must approve. Clause 24 regulates the amendment of denominations. Clause 25 provides for the marking of labels and containers to clearly reflect the denomination of the variety.
- 2.6 Chapter 5 of the Bill provides for the examination of the variety and the grant of a plant breeder's right. Clause 26 regulates the tests and trials that the Registrar may undertake, cause to undertake or use in order to enable him or her to determine whether a variety in respect of which an application has been accepted is new, distinct, uniform and stable in accordance with the provisions of clause 15 of the Bill. Clause 27 prescribes when the Registrar must refuse to grant a plant breeder's right and clause 28 when the Registrar must grant a plant breeder's right.
- 2.7 Chapter 6 of the Bill in clause 29 provides for and regulates the hearing by the Registrar of objections lodged in terms of clause 22.
- 2.8 Chapter 7 of the Bill provides for the obligations of holders of plant breeders' rights. Clause 30 provides for the payment of an annual fee. Clause 31 requires that the holder of a plant breeder's right must be able to—
 - furnish the Registrar with propagating material of the variety in respect of which the right was granted that is capable of reproducing the variety in question in such a manner that the characteristics of the variety correspond with those described at the time of the grant of the relevant right; and
 - to provide the Registrar with the information and access to the relevant facilities to satisfy the Registrar that the holder is maintaining propagating material that conforms with the relevant requirements.

- 2.9 Chapter 8 of the Bill provides for the enforcement of plant breeders' rights. Clause 32 deals with the infringement of a plant breeder's right and clause 33 provides for the remedies in respect of the infringement of a plant breeder's right.
- 2.10 Chapter 9 of the Bill deals with the issue of licences. In terms of clause 34 the holder of a plant breeder's right may enter into a written licence agreement authorising any person to undertake any activity referred to in clause 7. Clause 35 provides that any person who is of the opinion that the holder of a plant breeder's right unreasonably refuses to grant him or her a license under clause 34, or that such a holder is imposing unreasonable conditions for the issue of such a license, may apply to the Registrar to issue a compulsory license in respect of the relevant plant breeder's right. Clause 36 provides for the hearing of an application for a compulsory licence. In terms of the clause, a compulsory licence would only be issued by the Registrar if the granting of a compulsory licence is in the public interest, the holder of the plant breeder's right is unreasonably refusing a license referred to in clause 34 or is imposing unreasonable conditions for the issue of such a license and the reasonable requirements of the public with regard to the variety in question are not being satisfied or will not be satisfied as a result of such refusal or the imposition of such conditions.
- 2.11 Chapter 10 of the Bill deals with the termination of plant breeders' rights. In terms of clause 37, a plant breeder's right expires at the end of the relevant period contemplated in clause 8. Clause 38 provides for the cancellation of a plant breeder's right and clause 39 for the voluntary surrender of a plant breeder's right by the holder thereof.
- 2.12 Chapter 11 of the Bill in clause 40 provides for the publication of a Plant Variety Journal.
- 2.13 Chapter 12 of the Bill in clause 41 provides for appeals. The clause amongst other things provides for the appointment of a board to which a person who feels aggrieved by a decision or an action taken by the Registrar may appeal.
- 2.14 Chapter 13 of the Bill in clause 42 provides for the establishment of an Advisory Committee to advise the Registrar on technical matters arising from the provisions of the Bill and any other matters referred to the Advisory Committee by the Registrar. The appointment of members of the Advisory Committee and the termination of their membership are regulated in clause 43. Clause 44 regulates the disclosure of interests by members of the Advisory Committee. Clause 45 regulates the meetings of the Advisory Committee.
- 2.15 Chapter 14 of the Bill contains general provisions. Clause 46 regulates the entering of premises for inspection, sampling and seizure of certain articles. Clause 47 allows the Registrar to provide to an authority of another country the test reports for distinctness, uniformity and stability and variety descriptions derived from tests and trials undertaken by him or her against the payment of a fee. Clause 48 provides that a defect in the form of any document will not under certain circumstances invalidate the document. Clause 49 empowers the Registrar to correct certain errors and to amend certain documents. Clause 50 provides that a person may not disclose information obtained by him or her through the performance of his or her functions in terms of the Bill, except under circumstances set out in the clause. The clause is subject to the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000). Clause 51 empowers the Minister to make regulations by notice in the Gazette in respect of various specified matters. It further empowers the Minister to make different regulations in respect of different classes or groups of plants or in respect of different kinds of plants. Clause 52 provides for offences and penalties. Clause 53 deals with the jurisdiction of magistrates' courts. Clause 54 prohibits certain acts by the Registrar and officers under his or her delegation, control or direction. Clause 55 empowers the Minister to delegate any function conferred upon the Minister under the Bill except the function to make regulations. The clause also empowers the Registrar to delegate any function entrusted to the Registrar under the Bill to an employee of the Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries. Clause 56 makes provision for transitional provisions and savings. The clause deals with applications for plant breeders' rights, and plant breeders' rights granted, in terms of the Act immediately before the commencement of the Bill, if promulgated. It also provides for the continuation of registers under the Act and the position of the employee designated as Registrar under the Act. Clause 57, read with the Schedule, provides for the repeal of laws.

2.16 Clause 58 of the Bill contains the short title and provides for the commencement of the Bill.

3. CONSULTATION

3.1 Between 2009 and 2011 the then Department of Agriculture undertook a legislative review process of the Act. This process entailed a lengthy consultative process that resulted in the adoption of a South African Plant Breeders' Rights Policy in 2011. On 7 October 2011, a notice inviting public comments on the Plant Breeders' Rights draft Bill was published in Gazette No. 34651. This was followed by a National Workshop held on 1-2 March 2012. Provincial workshops for smallholder/subsistence farmers were also held between August and October 2012 in the Eastern Cape, Free State, Limpopo and the Western Cape. Another National workshop took place in May 2013 and the National House of Traditional Leadership was consulted in May 2013. To ensure further alignment with other legislation, the department also consulted the Competition Commission in June 2014.

3.2 A generalised list of stakeholders consulted follows hereunder:

- Department of Environmental Affairs, Department of Science & Technology, Department of Trade & Industry;
- All provincial departments of agriculture;
- National Farmers Union;
- Agricultural Research Council, University of KwaZulu-Natal, University of Pretoria, Cape Peninsula University of Technology;
- Individuals;
- Plant Breeders;
- Intellectual Property legal experts;
- Commodity/Industry Groups; and
- Regional and International Intellectual Property Institutions.

4. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

4.1 The implementation of the Bill will have financial implications for the Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries, in that the Department will be responsible for the establishment of the Advisory Committee and appointment of the appeal board and eight additional technical officials.

4.2 The estimated financial implications amount to R10.3 million. These funds will have to be secured in addition to the existing Medium Term Expenditure Framework allocation.

5. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 5.1 The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996, regulates the manner in which legislation must be enacted by Parliament. It prescribes different procedures for different types of Bills. Section 75 of the Constitution sets out the procedure to be followed when the National Assembly passes a Bill other than a Bill to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies. Section 74 deals with Bills amending the Constitution and does not apply to the Bill under discussion. Section 76 of the Constitution on the other hand provides for a procedure that must be followed for ordinary Bills affecting the provinces. In terms of section 76(3) of the Constitution, a Bill must be dealt with in accordance with a procedure established by either section 76(1) or 76(2) if it falls within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution or provides for legislation envisaged in paragraphs (a) to (f) of section 76(3). Schedule 4 to the Constitution lists functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence.
- 5.2 In Tongoane v Minister of Agriculture and Land Affairs 2010 (6) SA 214 (CC), the Constitutional Court ruled on the test to be used when tagging a Bill. The Court held in paragraph 70 that the “test for determining how a Bill is to be tagged must be broader than that for determining legislative competence”. In paragraph 72 the Court stated as follows: “Whether a Bill is a section 76 Bill is determined in two ways. First, by the explicit list of legislative matters in section 76(3)(a)-(f), and second by whether the provisions of a Bill in substantial measure fall within a concurrent provincial legislative competence”. The tagging test focuses on all the provisions of the Bill in order to determine the extent to which they substantially affect functional areas listed in Schedule 4, and not on whether any of its provisions are incidental to its substance [paragraph 59 of Tongoane].
- 5.3 The Bill seeks to give protection to the holder of a plant breeder’s right by requiring prior authorisation for the duration of the plant breeder’s right from that holder, by way of a licence granted or issued in terms of clause 34 or clause 36, by any person intending to undertake—
- the production or reproduction (multiplication) of the protected variety;
 - the conditioning for the purposes of propagation of the protected variety;
 - the sale or any other form of marketing of the protected variety;
 - the exporting of the protected variety;
 - the importing of the protected variety; or
 - the stocking of the protected variety for any of the purposes referred to above.
- 5.4 The Bill also provides that a plant breeder’s right in respect of a variety obtained in a legitimate manner does not extend to a farmer who uses the protected variety under certain circumstances as regulated under the Bill (the farmers’ privilege provision). “Agriculture” and “Trade” are functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution. Since the provisions of the Bill in substantial measure fall within concurrent provincial legislative competences, the Department and the Office of the Chief State Law Adviser are therefore of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 76(1) or (2) of the Constitution.

- 5.5 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain any provisions pertaining to customary law or to the customs of traditional communities.
